Committee News

1. Conference support

The committee decided to provide opportunities and support for people who have not attended the VALBEC or ACAL conference in the past by two special conference registration offers to members. The special offer email was sent on 23 April and applications for support must be received by 5 May. It is important that good practice in Victoria is represented at the ACAL conference so we encourage people to consider putting in a conference proposal by 12 May. 2. In the news

Linno Rhodes and her student from CNLC are mentioned in a recent article in the Weekend Australian Article 'Back to School'.

3. Next committee meeting

The next committee meeting will be held on Wednesday 16 May.
We welcome feedback and ideas so please send to info@valbec.org.au

4. Annual General Meeting

We will hold the AGM at the conclusion of the conference on Friday 25 May at Level 5, William Angliss Conference Centre, Corner La Trobe and King St Melbourne
Reports on the 2011 VALBEC year will be presented and the new Executive committee will be elected.

The agenda for the AGM is:

- A. Reports (Presidents, Conference, Professional Development, ACAL, Treasurer)
- B. Election of new office bearers.
- C. Confirmation of Auditor

5. VALBEC Committee nominations

The VALBEC committee is a dynamic and collaborative group who meet once a month to discuss, plan and take action on behalf of members and the ALBE field.

Get a nomination form or request a copy via info@valbec.org.au

6. VALBEC Fees for 2012

Stay connected with the LLN field, access professional development, receive Fine Print and be informed about the issues that affect learners and practitioners in Victoria through being a VALBEC member.

Payment can be made online using Paymate or by purchase order, cheque or credit card.

7. 2012 is the National Year of Reading

"Always read something that will make you look good if you die in the middle of it."
P. J. O'Rourke

Pauline O'Maley, VALBEC committee member and avid reader has been engrossed in her reading this month. Read what she has discovered about the history of reading.

You can see Pauline's pieces from previous months too.

10. Curriculum Maintenance Manager (CMM) General Studies and Further Education

PD Day

The Curriculum Maintenance Manager (CMM) General Studies and Further Education is conducting a professional development day on Tuesday June 19th. The focus of the day will be on Assessment. The program for the day and invitations to register will be sent out closer to the date.

Intention to accredit for the Certificates in General Education for Adults (CGEA)

The Curriculum Maintenance Manager (CMM) General Studies and Further Education is developing an Intention to accredit for the Certificates in General Education for Adults (CGEA) on behalf of ACFE. Submitting an Intention to Accredit is the first step in the accreditation process. The intention to accredit requires preliminary research and consultation to demonstrate that there is a valid need for the skills and outcomes that the courses will provide. As part of this we are proposing to conduct a practitioner focus group on Tuesday May 8th. Feedback can also be provided electronically. For more information contact nadia.casarotto@vu.edu.au or cheryl.bartolo@vu.edu.au

Fine Print

Fine writing, fine reading, Fine Print – make sure you become a member of VALBEC so you receive our next edition of Fine Print journal. We are excited to have Antonia Darder, an internationally recognized Freirian scholar, to write especially for Fine Print. Professor Darder holds the Leavey Presidential Chair of Ethics and Moral Leadership at Loyola Marymount University, Los Angeles and her scholarship focuses on racism, class inequalities, education and society. Read her fascinating argument for acknowledgement of the body in the act of knowing.

Our other feature writers examine how literacy and basic education can impact positively on social inclusion. Our writers are from the Mental Illness Fellowship and the Centre for Corrections Education. Victoria University is a significant contributor to research and writing in further education so we take a look at what they are up to.

Paul Pollard has a lifelong interest in teaching students with a disability so we share some of Paul's wisdom in Practical Matters.

A novel article by Dr Rhonda Faragher from the Australian Catholic University in Canberra, on the relationship between TV advertisements and teaching maths might get you thinking.

Debbie Soccio discusses three new useful and affordable e-learning tool kits in Technology Matters.

Jacinta Agostinelli gets to the heart of the matter in an interview with Amy Baillie, senior VET tutor from Meadow Heights Learning Shop.

We have more writing from the committee, including Lynne Matheson's column—it's revealing to see what our further education teachers are reading and thinking about.

Plus a little bit more!

Resources

11. Developing numeracy resources - have our say ...

VALBEC is proposing to develop some numeracy resources based on some highly regarded texts no longer readily available. These hard-to-get-texts include:

- 'Mathematics: a New Beginning'
- 'Numeracy on the Line'
- 'Rethinking Assessment'
- 'The Value of Time'
- 'Adult Numeracy Teaching'
- 'Strength in Numbers'

- 'Breaking the Maths Barrier'

In fact it's 21 years since the publication of 'Strength in Numbers' and 'Breaking the Maths Barrier'. VALBEC has decided to celebrate the coming of age of these adult numeracy resources by producing a new, updated resource. We want your help in capturing a few of the users' favourite things from these and other resources by completing a short survey.

Complete the survey at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/VALBEC-numeracy>

(If the link fails to work you can cut and paste it into your browser.)

The first 20 people to complete the survey (and provide their name) will receive a $10 voucher redeemable at Coles or Officeworks.

The survey will help us to decide on content for the new resource. We would love to hear from all teachers who teach numeracy to adults, especially those familiar with some of these resources.

Other

12. Win an iPad

If you're familiar with adult language, literacy and numeracy concepts then your help is needed!

Language, literacy and numeracy are critical for greater workforce participation, productivity and social inclusion.

We're asking teachers/tutors/lecturers familiar with adult literacy and numeracy concepts to anonymously rate a student, whose literacy and/or numeracy levels are most familiar to them, against statements and sample tasks aligned with the ACSF and ALLS frameworks.

You do not need an in-depth knowledge of either the ALLS or the ACSF to participate in this survey. Having knowledge of adult language, literacy and numeracy concepts is more important.

Enter the survey at <http://literacymap.com/s3/> or from the NCVER web site <http://www.ncver.edu.au/> go to the 'Quick Links' section.

Employment opportunities

ACFE, ACE, RTO and TAFE managers can post adult literacy, language and numeracy practitioner job ads in eVALBEC.

Send your request (50 words limit) to info@valbec.org.au by the 26th of the month.
